North Central Will Serve Fox Cities In About 60 Days

Airlines' Officials, Governor Work Out Promise at Conference

Madison — Gov. Gaylord today announced that the airline would begin flights to Appleton in about 60 days. Precise date of service has not been determined due to necessary flight detail filings with the civil aeronautics board, Buttner indicated. Sources in Appleton, which have been in close contact with the flight for air service since its beginning six years ago, have recently indicated July 1 was the probable date. Buttner declined to comment on the date.

Nail Down Date
Gov. Nelson indicated that the conference with North Central was to nail down a yes or no from the firm on flying the route which serves Minneapolis, Ashland, Eau Claire, Marshfield, Appleton and Milwaukee. North Central has fought the route through the CAB procedure and now has a case appealing the CAB ruling in federal court in Washington, D.C. The airline has consistently refused to say whether it will conform to the CAB order, commenting that it did not want to jeopardize its court fight.

Blood Type May Be Vital Clue In Rape-Killing
Milwaukee — Scientific police sleuthing, tracing the blood line of a baby born to a rapist's white victim, has tied a Negro inmate of Wisconsin state prison to the sensational rape-slaying of a suburban housewife, Mrs. Edna Mauch.

Doctor Placed On Probation
Waukegan — Dr. Ralph H. Wiley, 43, a physician charged with six counts of burglary, pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for three years to the state department of public welfare by Judge Herbert A. Bunde in circuit court at Waukegan Thursday. Dr. Wiley was arrested March 19 after a long sheriff's department and county patrol investigation. He admitted he took varied items, mostly junk and antiques, from 13 farm homes in the area.

Encouraged by Easy Victory Over Administration on Housing Measure
Washington — A walk-away victory by house Democrats in their battle for large-scale federal housing aids enhanced prospects today for other Democratic programs. By a luster 261-160 vote, the house yesterday passed a Democratic-backed $2,100,000 housing bill after upsetting every Republican effort to whittle it down to administration size.

Alabama Forbids the Banns White Rabbit Cannot Marry Black Rabbit

Montgomery, Ala. — A book for young children about a white rabbit marrying a black rabbit has drawn protests in Alabama. It was withdrawn from general public library circulation because segregationists complained that it reflected pro-integration views. The book is 'The Rabbits' Wedding,' published by Harper Bros. last year for children between the ages of three and seven. It was written and illustrated in color by Garth Williams. The story tells of the marriage of the black and white rabbits at a moonlight wedding attended by all the other animals of the forest.

Democrats Have New Hopes for Program

Washington — The government's space agency has tentative plans for 47 space shots—including 11 toward the moon and planets—within the next 2.5 years. Dr. T. Keith Glennan, nation aeronautics and space administration head, outlined the program yesterday to a senate space subcommittee. He testified in support of the agency's request for $485,300,000 in the year starting July 1.

April Living Costs Climb to New High

Higher State, Local Taxes Called Factor in Advances

Washington — Living costs rose in April, climbing back to the record high reached in July and November of last year. The government index went up two-tenths of 1 per cent from March to 123.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This matched the peak recorded in two months last year.

Food Prices Ease
Food, however, declined one-tenth of 1 per cent continuing a nine-months drop interrupted only in January. The new living cost rise was accompanied by a labor department report showing the purchasing power of factory worker earnings also rose to a record level in April. The previous record was in December, 1956.

Thomson Appears Available for 60'

Former Governor Delivers Sharp Tongue Lashing to Democrats; Sees Danger of State Bankruptcy

Post-Crescent News Service
Richland Center — Vernon W. Thomson, the last Republican governor of Wisconsin, doesn't intend to be counted out of the competition in 1960. That was the impression made here Thursday night at the annual caucus of the Republican party organization officers and workers of the third congressional district. Thomson made the principal speech at the minority party rally in his home town and delivered a savage attack upon Gov. Gaylord Nelson, who beat him in the election last fall, and the new Democratic state administration in general.

Sees Bankruptcy
The 1-term Republican executive said the Democrats are driving the state into bankruptcy, promised that the Republicans will rescue it, and all but volunteered for the rescue squad. There was no direct mention of Thomson's availability for the gubernatorial nomination next year.

A week ago second district accompanying employment loss of some 1,300 jobs and an annual payroll of about $2,000,000. LaCrosse is the big voting center of the third district.

The former governor called the Auto-Lite withdrawal a "major set-back for industrial development in Wisconsin." "Yet there is no evidence of any realistic effort on the part of the Democrat governor of Wisconsin to save the jobs of 1,300 Wisconsin citizens. Gov. Nelson's callous indifference to the fate of these 1,300 people is appalling."

Thomson also ridiculed David Carley, the governor's new chief of the state industrial development division, calling it "the governor's division of departing industries."

Carley is the man brought in by the governor to "preside over the development of Wisconsin industry — in other states."

Labor Legislation
Thomson again connected Carley to the labor legislation now being approved.

"Hostility towards business is the stock-in-trade of Gov. Williams of Mr. Carley's native state of Michigan," he asserted. "If this same Democrat pattern is to be repeated here, it will take more than the $9.5 million surplus left by Republicans to bail out the 'flounder and spend' administration in Wisconsin," he scoffed.

Three Die in Drownings
Death Toll Includes Two Small Brothers, Fairchild Prom King

By The Associated Press
Two small brothers drowned near La Crosse Thursday and the president of the junior class at Fairchild High school died in a mill pond when he slipped from a rescuer's grasp.

Miles Newman, 6, and his 8-year-old brother, Thomas, drowned while swimming in Mormon Creek near their home in the town of Shelby. Their sister Susie, 7, ran home for help when she saw her brothers disappear in the stream which had receded following recent heavy rains. The pair apparently stepped into a pot hole.

Became Tired
Jerry Matysik, prom king at Fairchild High, drowned in Dells Mill Pond four miles north of Augusta where he and three companions had gone after completing examinations.

Four frightened youths were rescued from a pond at Stevens Point Thursday night after one of them swam to shore for help when their boat overturned.

Dumped Into Water
Dumped into eight feet of water about 50 yards from shore were John Woyak, 14, David Kluck, 16, Michael Hamerski, 14, and Eugene Rutta, 18.

While the other three clung to the boat, Rutta swam to shore and called Portage county officers, who sent a boat.

Before the boat arrived Michael Woyak, 19, drove up to take his brother and the other

Teenager Admits He Shot Pair to Death

Youth Claims He Killed Cab Driver, Son Because of Remarks Man Made

Tahlequah, Okla., — A gun. I asked him what he meant. He turned and said last night he shot to death a Tahlequah taxi driver and his son because the older man "made some smart remarks about smart little that don't know where they are going."

The confession was spelled out and signed by 19-year old Fred D. Tuggle of nearby Sallisaw, in northeastern Oklahoma. He told arresting officers he had expected them sooner.

In his confession, Tuggle said he fired three shots at cab driver Cecil Truitt, 52. He couldn't recall how many times he shot at Truitt's son, 22-year old Charley.

Sunday Night
The slaying took place Sunday night. The cab-driver's body was found about eight miles from Tahlequah a short time later. His son's body was found at a different location the next day.

Tuggle was arrested yesterday at the home of his grandmother in Sallisaw, Cherokee county. Deputy Sheriff Glenn Hamby said Tuggle told him "I looked for you to pick me up Monday or Tuesday."

In his statement, Tuggle said he caught Truitt's cab and headed toward Stilwell, Okla. He said he made inquiries about the address of a woman.

Then, he continued in the statement, "the old man in the cab made some smart remarks about smart little that don't know where they are going."

"I was riding in the back seat of the car and I had a boys home. He swam out and took the Hamerski boy to shore."

At about the same time, John Gyrion, 16, of the Village of Whiting, swam out and pushed the boat toward shore until the other lads could walk to dry land.

Three Youths Caught After Auto Chase

Arrested at Gunpoint As They Cower In Farm Field

Sheboygan — Three Minnesota youths were captured in a field on the edge of town today to climax a high speed chase.

Lt. Clarence Zimmerman said the youths surrendered at gunpoint as they cowered in the high grass of the field. They are from St. Paul.

Zimmerman said the trio had stopped at the farm of Arno Voss, four miles north of Sheboygan on Highway 141 at 7 a.m. and asked to buy gas.

Sped Away
Voss gave them three gallons, but they sped off without paying for it. The farmer telephoned the sheriff's department and a squad car immediately took up the chase as the fleeing 1959 auto sped toward Sheboygan.

Several other city and county squad cars joined the pursuit. Finally, the fleeing car approached a barricade that had been set up by street construction crews. In an effort to make a quick turn, the car overturned and the youths fled into the tall grass.

Four city patrol cars and three from the county pulled up. The officers surrounded the field and forced the surrender.

Press Officer Lincoln White said yesterday the condition of the former secretary of state was about the same as earlier this week when Dulles was reported growing weaker.

Dulles, 71, has been hospitalized with cancer most of the time since early February. His condition was complicated by pneumonia two weeks ago.

Four Wheat Program Proposals Attempt to Solve Grain Surplus

But Old Law Will Stay on Books For a Year Despite Senate Action

BY EDWIN B. HAKKINSON
Washington — Senators had a choice of at least four widely varying wheat programs today as they tried to choose a way to ease mounting grain surpluses.

It appeared likely that no matter what their decision, the present wheat program—which helped build up the huge grain stocks—must continue another year.

On June 1—just 10 days away—Sec. of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson must announce a new national wheat program. Present law requires an allotment of at least 55 million acres and a support price of not less than 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a price determined under farm law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

June 1 Deadline
Both the senate and the house would have to agree on a new program before June 1 to make it effective for the coming year. The house, working on a different program, is not expected to act on it before that date.

Wheat is grown under strict production controls, with each farmer allotted a specific number of acres for his crop. He is penalized if he grows more. But despite sharp acreage cutbacks, the amount of wheat grown has greatly exceeded that sold. The government holds more than a full year's supply obtained under price support loans.

How to cut production still order is aimed at raising further without hurting the farm production.

either. They say he is prepared to carry on the deadlocked debate indefinitely.

Move Cautiously
Behind these tactics is a desire on both sides to avoid giving away any advantage by showing too much eagerness.

For today's debate at the palace of nations the western ministers deployed their forces as for a military campaign.

Hertel was assigned to discuss European security and Couve de Murville was given the problem of Berlin to talk about. Lloyd was named cleanup man with the task of replying instantly to Gromyko if the Soviet minister launched into a new attack on the west.

In calling at his news conference for a Soviet pledge on Berlin, Von Brentano said the Russians should also display a "genuine readiness for a solution" before the western government chiefs agree to a meeting with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The West German foreign minister ducked when asked if he had formal assurance from the western Big Three that they would refuse to attend a summit parley if the Soviets would not assure western rights in Berlin. But Her-ter already has warned Gromyko that President Eisenhower will refuse to attend a summit conference if the Russians set some new deadline for a communist squeeze play on Berlin.

Khrushchev originally demanded that the western powers withdraw their garrisons by May 27. He postponed the deadline indefinitely to clear the way for the Big Four conference to discuss the future of Germany and the Berlin issue.

The western ministers expected Gromyko to abandon his sharp attacks on allied military policy after getting a stiff warning from Hertel.

The American secretary's rebuke at the Big Four conference yesterday implied that Gromyko would poison the atmosphere of the sessions and endanger the prospects of a summit meeting if he continued to denounce the western alliance as aggressive.

The western ministers called a strategy meeting this morning to consider whether to try to wind up the deadlocked debate on a German peace settlement and get the conference into negotiations on the Berlin crisis.

Barring some unexpected change of signals, the formal Big Four session in the Palace of Nations this afternoon was slated to bring another state of speeches on details of the contradictory western and Soviet proposals for Germany.

bers of her staff had received complaints about the book and that a member of the legislature, Sen. E. O. Eddins, questioned it.

She said it isn't unusual to take books out of general circulation in public libraries, and that it isn't always for racial reasons. Some books, she explained, are available only by request because they might be considered bordering on obscenity.

Not Political
Meanwhile, the publishers issued a statement from the author saying the book had "no political significance."

Williams, now in California, added in the statement:

"I was completely unaware that animals with white fur, such as white polar bears and white dogs and white rabbits, were considered blood relations of white beings. I was only aware that a white horse next to a black horse looks very picturesque."

Williams said his story was not written for adults. He said they "will not understand it, because it is only about a soft furry love and has no hidden message of hate."

Bill Goes to Conference

The surprising ease with which the house yesterday scored over the administration on housing raised Democratic hopes of a repeat victory on other programs.

House passage of the housing bill now sends it to conference with the senate to compromise differences between senate and house versions. The senate earlier this session voted a $2,000,000,000 program.

House Ignores Critics

Republicans were counting on a presidential veto if congress sticks to the lines laid out by senate and house. None of yesterday's major votes gave the Democrats the two-thirds majority they would need to override a veto.

Presidential displeasure appears certain to be centered on authority for continuing government - subsidized low rent public housing.

President Eisenhower in his January message to congress asked for an end to public housing. The senate voted to subsidize 40,000 new units, the house 140,000 new units over four years at the rate of $6,000 a year.

The house ignored cries of "galloping socialism," budget busting and spending spree in approving the bill without major change.

A coalition of Republicans and southern Democratic conservatives was outnumbered by the disciplined Democratic majority on every key vote.

Classifying the Counties

There is a bright ray of hope for those who are disturbed about the archaic governmental arrangements in our counties in the publication of a preliminary research report on the subject for the Wisconsin County Boards association.

The document prepared by the bureau of government of the University of Wisconsin extension division might pass for another academic excursion — except for one significant and encouraging fact. It is being taken seriously by the County Boards association, as indicated in recent testimony before the legislature by its executive officer.

What emerges from this report is refreshingly simple and direct, in a field which thus far has been publicly discussed largely in terms of the bulky and politically hazardous constitutional amendment process.

It is suggested that the rapidly urbanizing counties of the state, including those in our own Fox Valley, have problems and characteristics in common that would justify a separate legislative classification for governmental purposes even as the unique characteristics of Milwaukee county around the turn of the century led the legislature to set up a special metropolitan classification.

Such a classification could be achieved by simple legislative enactment. The legislature could determine according to any single standard or combination of tests that certain counties now are "urban" counties. A population test would perhaps be most practicable. It could then prescribe a uniform system of government for those counties, and permit the others of common characteristics and common problems to retain their present arrangements.

Thus the size of our bulky county boards could be reduced quite easily. Thus there could be prescribed a system of county executive management. The election of county government representatives could be equalized, without prejudice to the rural counties of the state where such disparities do not exist or are not as pronounced.

Such a reform could be achieved without the political resistance that inevitably attends proposals to throw out the present system for all counties. It is evident that the present system is quite acceptable and comfortable to the residents of many counties. They would be permitted to keep what they have and what satisfies them, and would not be inclined to interfere with the changes desired by those in larger counties of wholly differing problems and needs.

The association study is a useful one. Let us hope that it will inspire at long last constructive action in a field where the difficulties have appeared insoluble to even our thoughtful and responsible politicians at Madison.

Wants Numerical Grading Before the Seventh Grade

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Several nights ago I read with interest the proposed new report card system for Appleton schools. As we have only lived in Appleton for a year I have tried hard to understand the school system here by attending PTA meetings at Junior High and Elementary levels, reading what articles I can and being briefed by principal and teacher. I have listened without comment for negativism and criticism without trial is unfair. However, the marking system to which we must now look forward makes me take pen in hand.

It seems to me that the schools are almost creating a caste system or an artificial "groupness." A boy or girl will find it difficult to move from one layer to another because of the impossibility or implausibility for a teacher to give the individual attention that is required to continually determine a student's rating. And why should this be?

Society sets a standard of excellence and those who measure up to it are "A" people. There is no one standard for the mediocrity who are trying hard and so we view them as A4 point people — and another standard for the best — it is the same for all. In life — outside the schools — you either are or you are not "on the ball!"

So, too, with laws! We have one set of laws and we must always be A citizens or we have broken the law. To be an A4 point citizen is not enough, for it is those people who forget to stop at a stop sign or neglect to go to the polls on voting day. No, in life about as you are an "A" person — or you must face the fact that you fall short and are a "B," "C" or less person!

The man who is president of a large corporation is the head not because he is a mediocre nice guy, trying hard (or an Appleton A with 4 points student) — he is the president because his board of directors finds him to be an "A" talent with no point explanation — just a plain old fashioned "A" student!

Let's begin to let Appleton children face up to the fact that there are "A" students and "B" students, etc. Let's do away with the false pride, complacency and security that comes from being the best in "your group" — and work harder to reach the real top. And let's begin the business of report cards far earlier than the 7th grade. Let's help these children grow to young manhood and womanhood by showing our confidence in their ability to accept and understand school grades by the time they reach the intermediate level. These young folks

A Big Lift to American Arms

The fact that the American Strategic Air Command has a jet bomber which can fly non-stop for more than 9,000 miles is a little difficult to evaluate in the midst of almost miraculous arms development in the form of guided missiles and rockets destined for outer space. But it must be acknowledged that there is something solid about the announcement of a great improvement in this more or less conventional weapon.

The new jet bomber now has just about equalled the range of the old slow and retired B-36 piston driven bomber. But it is much faster and it carries weapons with much greater power than was ever known in the days of the old propeller driven planes.

The new long distance bomber, known as the B-52G, will be armed with both H-bombs and "hound dog" guided missiles and will be assigned to the continuous patrol the S. A. C. is planning for the future. The B-52G now has proved that it can reach any Russian target from North America without aerial refueling and that is a tremendous mental hazard for the Russian leaders who may be thinking about trifling with U. S. power.

There are of course more terrible weapons in the American arsenals. The thought of a guided missile which can take off for a distance of five or six thousand miles and be guided directly to its target is a matter which will hold the attention of most anyone, but somehow it does not have the impact of the new powerful jet bomber which is something easier to understand and therefore easier to believe in.

If any foreign leader should be toying with the thought of sending a guided missile hurtling through the atmosphere toward vital spots in America it is probable that he would be hesitant if he realized that America had a flock of heavily armed bombers hovering about in the skies capable of taking off immediately upon a 9,000 mile jaunt in retaliation. Guided missiles are something to strive for and no doubt they would be terrific if they functioned properly. Apparently there is no assurance that any of them will on any special or particular date whereas the big long range bomber is something that inspires confidence in its owners and inspires the same degree of respect in its possible opponents.

Confusing Duty With Debate

The heckling by senators of various presidential appointees seems to be more an attempt by the senators to get their share of publicity than a sincere effort to investigate the qualifications of the men and women appointed by President Eisenhower.

Constitutionally the president is to nominate and appoint ambassadors and cabinet members "by and with the advice and consent of the senate." This clause gives senators, not only the right, but the responsibility to investigate and approve of those whom the president nominates. But this responsibility often has been overlooked by senators in their adherence to party or region. There have been foolish or unworthy appointments by probably every president of the United States. And there has been just as unworthy approval by the senate of such appointments.

This judgment of presidential appointments, along party lines or according to political ideologies, now is showing as the senate queries and investigates. Opposition to Lewis Strauss as secretary of commerce seems to be based on a defense of Robert Oppenheimer and even Alger Hiss rather than Mr. Strauss' qualifications. Sen. Long's one-man stand against Under Sec. of State Dillon was mostly an opportunity for the Louisiana senator to give his own opinions on foreign aid.

There has been sound thinking on the part of a few senators regarding the need for career diplomats in sensitive positions around the world. But the need also has been recognized by recent presidential administrations. Political contributors still get some choice spots, but the percentage of career diplomats as ambassadors to other nations has risen from 33 per cent in 1924 to 69 per cent today.

"Liberals" moaned for years about the disintegration of diplomacy due to McCarthyism. The irresponsible inquiries by the senate are just as likely to discourage top men and women from accepting appointments.

Not Only for the Birds

There is a neurotic robin out east who has been building nine nests on nine consecutive metal steps of a fire escape at the Bronx zoo.

According to William Conway, curator of birds whose office window conveniently looks out on the fire escape, the anxious mother-to-be has not yet laid any eggs. "When she sits on one nest, she looks up and can't help but see the next nest right over her head. Then away she goes to bring back material for the upstairs nest." Apparently she has simply forgotten the purpose for which nests are created.

Birds apparently get compulsive phases like this quite regularly. Some seem to be just absent-minded and build nests on both sides of a porch, somehow losing that instinct for direction which helps them fly unerringly over thousands of miles in migration. Mr. Conway recalls another robin who let things get so out of hand that she built nests in every niche in the facade of a large office building.

Maybe it helps to know that other members of the animal kingdom get similar neuroses and bad habits of human beings. How many housewives are so concerned about the living room furniture they overlook its purpose? How many parents, wrapped up in the business of "togetherness" and community projects, get confused about what all the activity is for?

Jammed Phone Booth Contradicts Statement From Notre Dame

From the Birmingham, Ala., News

A Kansas City Associated Press item quotes a Notre Dame university official as saying "Joe College is dead," explaining that higher learning institutions now are getting "a much more serious person."

The item followed on the wire a bit from Nampa, Idaho. Students at Northwest Nazarene college claimed a new phone booth record, parts of 40 of them being crammed in.

They are indeed more serious.

Semantics Lesson

From the Tulsa, Okla., Tribune

Radio Moscow has announced that the term "enemy of the people" is no longer used because elements hostile to the Soviet order as such no longer exist in the USSR. This is a result of the victory of socialism. Translation: The opposition has learned to keep its trap shut.

He Gets Paid for Watching Clock

Belvidere, N. J. — (P) — W.

Frank Burd is a clock-watcher and gets paid $50 a year for doing it.

For the last 19 years, Burd has climbed into a bell tower once a week to wind the 100-year-old clock in the Warren county courthouse.

And he knows he's not the only one watching the clock. "When it strikes the wrong time, stops or is wrong," Burd said, "I really get the telephone calls."

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

Defense Boss McElroy says he'll stay on the job. Where else can a man find 500 congressmen to tell him how to run his business?

Polls show Ike's popularity as high as ever. As one woman says: "He's such a nice man, it's too bad he can't do something about that fellow in the White House."

Senate Democratic Chief Johnson denies he's running for president. He's far too busy knocking off any rivals who are.

A senate committee approves Commerce Secretary Strauss, 9 to 8. Such a vote of confidence can't be sneezed at. One good sneeze might blow it away.

Rule of thumb: Men who say "brides" for elderly wives don't seem to lead very factual lives.

The business boom has divided the forces of the political left: Half left behind — and half left over.

Japan hires Tom Dewey for $100,000 to bring more U. S. trade. There's an old Jap proverb: Rig wheel in Republican party won't turn without lots of grease.

Looking Backward

County Board Election Approved

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Post-Crescent for the week of May 22, 1880.

The members of the new County Board have done themselves honor in re-electing Hon. C. E. McIntosh Chairman of the Board.

He makes a fine executive officer, being perfectly familiar with the parliamentary practice and rules. He is fair and impartial and a man of good discrimination and judgment and has hitherto demonstrated his fitness for the position to the satisfaction of his fellow-members, as well as the people at large.

He dispatches business rapidly and correctly, and his decisions are always sustained.

25 YEARS AGO
Friday, May 18, 1934
Fred Gehrke, Appleton district manager of the National Reemployment service, was in Madison to attend a state meeting of district reemployment officers.

Dr. R. M. Bagg, professor of Geology at Lawrence college, was to address a McKinley school student assembly that afternoon. The geologist was to discuss the origin of the earth and tell about some of the geological phenomena in and around Appleton.

Henry Marx, grand knight of Father Fitzmaurice council, Knights of Columbus, and C. E. Mullen, past grand knight, were to be delegates from the local council to the thirty-third annual state meeting of Wisconsin State Council of Knights of Columbus.

Herb Heilig, director of Appleton Vocational school, was in Fond du Lac attending a meeting of Fox river valley vocational school directors who were discussing possibilities of organizing a sales training course for schools.

10 YEARS AGO

Friday, May 20, 1949

Delton Roehm and David Wieckert of Appleton, were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary society of the University of Wisconsin. They were students at the extension center in Menasha and membership in the society was based solely on their scholastic record.

Nancy Turkow was named the J. C. Higgins bicycle queen at a meeting of the Pandora Tri-Y club. She was awarded a radio for winning the contest, decided by the votes of spectators who watched the girls pedal in the window of an Appleton store.

The election of H. T. Ran-

GOP Caucuses Show Party Lacks Leader

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Republicans are busy talking each other that they have struck the bottom and that the trend of their fortunes henceforth will be upward.

But there is fairly little evidence that the sideliners can detect that supports such anxious reassurances. Surely the current series of district caucuses of the party organization offers little in the way either of attendance, spirit or novelty of approach in campaigning or organization buildup.

The several that this corner has sampled, indeed, suggest that the desultory and almost dispirited attitudes that prevailed last fall continue and that the party has not yet recovered from the stunning blows it suffered from the electorate last November when it lost a senate contest by a humiliating margin and a governorship unexpectedly.

GOP Chairman Claude J. Jasper is telling the district rallies currently that the party must improve its organization strength. It must attract young people, he says again and again. But as the Republicans so often do, they are talking to themselves. It is one thing to write a prescription. It is a good deal more difficult to carry it out.

THE NEED

The great need for the party in Wisconsin today is for a leader around whom the loyal adherents can rally.

The ideal would be a strong and attractive man, competent, widely known, and without a record of involvement in previous party controversies, ideological rivalries or defeats.

But he is not in sight, unless the anxious GOP searchers are astigmatic.

Former Gov. Vernon W. Thomson has his considerable group of backers. But Thomson was not a strong leader and never led substantially, all of the party. Indeed, a coolness or indifference toward him during his two years in the governorship by many influential persons contributed to the substantial margin of his defeat last November, even if it is conceded that an ideal have a right to bring a good report card home with pride and we parents have the right to know how Johnny rates with the whole so that we may help and encourage those who lag and praise those who excel.

candidate might have lost the election too.

It is something of a curiosity that Sen. Wiley, the highest ranking public official elected in this state and its senior elected representative, has never had a real position of leadership in spite of his repeated successes and considerable stature in national life. He does not approach in the Republican party, for example, the rank and the influence of Sen. Proxmire in the Democratic party, although Proxmire has been in office less than two years.

There are some apt state legislators. There are some highly effective congressmen wearing the Republican insignia. But it is difficult for them to communicate to the whole state. They are local and regional party spokesmen. For him self, Jasper has repeatedly said that he regards his function as managerial, that he is the party officer rather than the leader.

OPPORTUNITIES

While the loss of state offices was a heavy blow in terms of communication — or publicity — it also provides an opportunity if the party has the resources to exploit it.

The new Democratic administration is confronted with a variety of difficulties, not all of which it is confident of dealing with successfully. Some of its commitments are irreconcilable politically, as shown by the awkward handling in the assembly of the labor-demand bill for the extension of the unemployment compensation act to small businesses. The party has made appeals to both of these pressure groups; here is a case where it cannot serve both.

But it takes a strong man to exploit such situations. Individual and nearly anonymous legislators on the floor at Madison cannot.

Always before in modern times Republican ticket-making was automatic or nearly so. Today for the first time in memory the party faces the task of building a slate early, to mount a campaign that will be doubtful at best a year hence.

War Long Over but Tax Stays

From a Jewelry Magazine

Here's a frightening statistic: The Internal Revenue bureau so far has collected more than $3 billion through the "emergency" retail jewelry excise tax, according to The Jewelers' Circular-Keystone magazine.

This tax was imposed on Oct. 1, 1941, at 10 per cent as an emergency wartime revenue measure. It was doubled on April 1, 1944, and remained at 20 per cent until March 31, 1954, when it was reduced to 19 per cent.

This is the record for fiscal years (July 1-June 30):
1942 $4,501,000
1943 88,366,000
1944 113,373,000
1945 184,220,000
1946 223,342,000
1947 238,615,000
1948 217,899,000
1949 210,688,000
1950 190,820,000
1951 210,239,000
1952 220,339,000
1953 234,659,000
1954 209,256,000
1955 142,366,000
1956 152,340,000
1957 156,604,000
1958 156,134,000

Now, nearly 18 years after its introduction, the emergency aspect of the tax is ancient history — but the tax is not.

State Budget Hearings Open To Public

Expect Long Session As Legislature Seeks Fiscal Compromise

Madison—The deliberations of the legislature's conference committee on the state budget will be open to the press and public, Sen. W. A. Draheim, Neenah Republican, announced today. The committee elected Draheim, who is regularly the chairman of the joint finance committee, as chairman of the first conference committee in recent history on the state's general appropriation bill. Political Combat The Democratic assembly and the Republican senate are locked in political combat on the issue of the state budget. The Democrats in the lower house insist upon Gov. Nelson's program, and the GOP-controlled upper house standing for a substitute spending program largely written by the Neenah senator. When the houses were unable to agree Thursday, the legislature turned to the rare expedient of a conference committee in an attempt to work out a compromise. Long Session The sessions of the committee are likely to last for weeks. The first session will be held next Tuesday afternoon. Draheim's chairmanship gives him temporarily the most prominent role in state politics. Draheim, the principal architect of the Republican resistance, is an advocate of a 1-year budget policy but has insisted that the law must be changed to achieve it. Earlier in this session he lost a proposal to achieve annual sessions of the legislature by constitutional amendment. er a long illness. Charlie Camps Out in Ruins of Old Fort After Battling 3-Foot Waves

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fort Senneville, Quebec — That dateline is nothing more than poetic license. All that remains of Fort Senneville are a few stone walls and a fireplace. But I camp here tonight.

House

It would be poetic license, too, if I were to imply that on this first day of my long journey, I have proven myself to be an intrepid voyager; I have not.

I put in at a slip on the Ottawa river just outside of Montreal. The weather was a cold 44 degrees and the wind was a howler. It was difficult to get my canoe out of the slip.

Once away, I quartered into the wind and the waves, which were 3-footers. A few miles out I was having trouble. I headed down into the water. It helped.

Six or seven miles later I chugged into the Lake of Two Mountains, and it was a lake of many mountains — all waves. The lake perhaps is 25 miles long and about six miles across. I charged into it but soon realized that a canoe was not the craft for the job on this hard day. My canoe, The Green Apple, spent most of the time in the air.

Fort Senneville

I ran for an island about a half mile away but after a few minutes of a severe buffeting by wind and waves, I turned and landed at the nearest point. It was Fort Senneville.

Total mileage today: About 15. But I found my story.

The old fort was built in 1692 on the farthest western tip of Montreal Island. Today it stands, a bleak skeleton of rock and mortar, but a splendid example of remote frontier warfare. It was placed on the far-distant defensive front-line of New France, guarding Quebec.

A frightening massacre at nearby Lachine stirred the French to erect Fort Senneville as an impregnable barrier against marauding Iroquois.

Panoramic View

From the fort I had a sweeping view of many miles.

Assembly Reverses Self on Poll of Bar

Madison — The assembly reversed itself Thursday and refused to pass a bill ordering the State Bar of Wisconsin to poll lawyers on whether they favor compulsory membership in the organization.

The bill, with the referendum provision, was advanced to within a step of passage several days ago. An attempt to pass it today failed 42 to 52.

The Democratic-sponsored measure was aimed at overturning a recent state supreme court order requiring all lawyers to become members of the State Bar.

Hostesses Named For WBA Meeting

Kaukauna — Mrs. Roger Powell and Mrs. Ed Vanden Heuvel will be hostesses for a meeting of the Woman's Business Association at 8 p.m. Monday at the Union hall.

Cards will be played and refreshments served after the meeting of the Woman's business session.

Fort Senneville, Quebec, where Charlie was forced to camp on his first day out, is a historic landmark that dates back to the days of New France. All that is left are these few walls and a fireplace. Built in 1692, it was a sturdy fortress that withstood the attacks of marauding Iroquois Indians. Benedict Arnold and his men camped here 173 years ago, when the fort was long since deserted, and ordered the structure to be burned when they left the next day.

Public Library Art Exhibit Has Over 100 Pieces

Kaukauna — Work done by the 54 students enrolled in the winter art classes, sponsored by the recreation department, is now on display in the children's section of the public library with over 100 paintings, drawings and sculpture exhibited.

A special showing this evening from 6:30 to 8:30 will have Mrs. Roger Belling, instructor, on hand to answer questions, accept registrations and explain the work.

A summer art class is planned for various age groups. Four sources of inspiration can be seen in the present exhibit including observation, experience, imagination and ability.

Benefit association at 8 p.m. Monday at the Union hall. Cards will be played and refreshments served after the meeting of the Woman's business session.

Art Is Necessary, Professor Says

UW Teacher Talks to AHS Students, Parents at Show

"Art is a necessity as long as trends for development in science there are people," Dr. Frederick M. Logan told parents at the Appleton High school art show. He spoke on Wednesday night. He spoke on "The Place of Art in This World of Science."

Dr. Logan is head of the department of art and art education at the University of Wisconsin. "It is a mistake," Dr. Logan said, "for anyone to assume that the arts must be put aside for the technological aspects of life." He said art and the concepts of the artist were necessary to set

Life Complicated

Dr. Logan stated that not all of life can be controlled by an automatic gadget or by some new scientific development. "Can science and the technological world solve problems which arise between individuals and peoples?" he asked. "Can the thoughts of mankind be corrected by inventing some new motor?"

He said art can be as important as science. Every artist, and every student taking art, is important, he claimed, because each has his own perceptions and every perception of the world is important. In the total of all perceptions the present and the future can be seen.

"Shape-makers" determine a tremendous part of our living, Logan stated. Science, he said, shows us how we can get things done, but art suggests what we can do with the things that are done and how to use things.

Cites Trends

He noted the trends in furniture from the "over-stuffed '20's" to the modern trend of light, mobile furniture.

He cited also new art forms such as the motion picture and the TV pictures. He said these reflect democratic values since there is such a range from the artistic to trash.

After pointing to changes that occur because of artists and their perceptions, he suggested that artists change and that no art student has perceptions like another's. Artists change because the world changes and its way of life changes.

Student Winner
Sue Zeiss, an AHS senior art student, was given an award by Michael Brandt, art instructor, for her work in art and related fields.

Following the program, parents and friends viewed art pieces which were created during the year by AHS students. On display also were oil paintings, sketches, prints, mosaic pieces, ceramics, jewelry, mobiles and line sculpture.

Southern Co-ed Suffers From Case Of 'Miss-Identity'

Winston - Salem, N.C.—Darcus E. Soles of Tabor City wrote Prof. Jasper L. Memory, Jr., director of the Wake Forest college summer session, that it was Miss, not Mister Soles.

"I thought that I should call your attention to this as it will probably have some bearing on the room assignment," Darcus wrote after receiving a letter from the school addressed to Mr. Soles.

Prof. Memory decided it had quite a bit of bearing. Red-faced, he reassigned her from a men's to a women's dormitory.

'She Sits Best, Who Sits Alone' Should be Baby-Sitters' Code

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm writing in regard to the letter concerning boys visiting girls who are baby-sitting. I agree with you that this should not be permitted. My reasons, however, are not entirely the same as yours.

When people hire a baby-sitter they trust her with their most valuable possessions — their children. If the sitter is entertaining a boy friend she's not so likely to give her full attention to her responsibilities.

The girl who goes to work in an office or a retail store wouldn't think of entertaining friends on the job. Why, then, should she expect to do this while baby-sitting? She's being paid for her time and her employer has the right to expect her undivided attention. Sitters should have this explained to them from the outset. It should not be assumed that they "know better."

Most of them don't. — Mother of Five

DEAR M. O. Five: Many mothers and a surprising number of conscientious sitters wrote along these same lines. There's no question about it — "She sits best, who sits alone."

DEAR ANN: It happened again last night for the 20th time. I decided to write for advice before I lose my temper and hit my big-hearted husband over his dumb head. We've been married 10 years. He's loyal, loving, and has never caused me any trouble. The problem I'm having with him has never been mentioned in your column that I know of.

When we're with family or friends someone invariably admires my earrings, a pin, a scarf, a novel eye-glass case or even a hat. My husband puts me on the spot by saying "Give it to her, honey. You can get another one."

What can I do but hand it over or look cheap? Last night I lost a lovely hand-painted scarf to his sister. I tried to smile and be gracious but was boiling inside. If you can think of a solution to this one you're a genius. — Stripped

Dear Stripped: I wish they were all this easy. Simply tell your husband (when you're alone) that you shop, hunt and pay good money for things you like because you want to enjoy them.

If he insists on putting you in this awkward position after you've explained then publicly pretend you have a sound-proof head.

DEAR ANN: I'm a 30-year-old woman with a child, 7. My husband suddenly took it to his head that I should "go to work like other modern women." I'm not trained for anything so I couldn't earn more than about $35 a week. By the time I paid someone to take care of my child, plus the carfare, I'd have less than $10 a week left. I don't think this is worth leaving my home for.

My husband has always been strong-willed and domineering. I have to get up at 4:00 a.m. to fix his breakfast. Two years ago I had a serious operation and I'm still nervous and underweight. He has never helped me around the house and he comes and goes evenings as he pleases. I don't think he'd change if I went to work. He makes $100 a week and we've always been in debt. Please tell me what is the right thing to do. — E. J. J.

In your case, working outside the house makes no sense. A husband has no right to demand his wife get an outside job when she has a home and young child to care for. If he's so eager for the extra money, he should get a part-time evening job instead of "going and coming as he pleases."

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Our Children

Suggestions Offered For Graduation Time

BY ANGELO PATRI

Part of the fun of graduation day is the presents the graduate gets. Gifts are all ways delightful and they are especially welcome on this high occasion.

There should be gifts to mark this milestone on a child's progress but some care, some judgment, should enter into the choice of them. Giving a microscope to a science student is the height of a f f e c t i o n a t e thoughtfulness, but giving him a book on folk dancing is another thing.

Sometimes in their exuberance over the event an elderly relative goes overboard and gives the young person an extravagant gift that is quite unsuitable from a common sense view but which delights the youngster immeasurably. Imagine giving a boy just reaching his eighteenth year and about to enter college, a very expensive foreign car of tremendous horse power.

Make Them Suitable. Imagine the eyes of his classmates as he describes this bit of magnificent munificence. And imagine what it is likely to do to him, to his work, to his daily life and his character. Imagine what a storm the parents face when and if they say, "But you cannot take such a car, or any car, to college. It would have been much better if your uncle had put the money to your account in the bank to help pay for your education." Any sane parent would be likely to say just that and, let's hope, abide by it.

Gifts at this time should be suitable for the child to whom they are given. Books, those dealing with this particular child's interests; cameras, microscopes, scientific equipment of any sort for those wanting to use them, tickets to theaters, opera, the circus, all ways are welcomed.

A trip abroad is a fairy-godrequired. After all, what's the use if the graduate can't use the thing? He's too young to value it in terms of affection. It's use for him is all that counts just now.

Des Moines Trims Foxes

3-1 League Runnerup Demons Chase Griffith, Score 7-4 Triumph; Fox Cities' Jones Hurls Tonight

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Home may be where the heart is, but you couldn't prove it by the Fox Cities Foxes.

Continuing in their baffling Goodland field hitting slump, the Foxes lost to Des Moines, 7-4, before 801 fans on a perfect baseball night Thursday.

Winner Jim Shively (2-0) and reliever Ed Radzevich stopped the losers on seven hits.

The Foxes remained in sixth place in the Three-I league, however, since seventh place Burlington and eighth-ranking Cedar Rapids both lost. Runner-up Des Moines was unable to gain ground on Lincoln, which also won.

Tonight (8:30) in the second of a 3-game series right-hander Willie Jones will attempt to halt a Fox losing skid for the second time in five days. Jones' 5-hit, 5-3 victory in Des Moines Sunday severed a wrong-way streak which had reached three games. Right-hander Ralph Dunn (0-0) is tonight's Des Moines starter.

Knocked Out

Dick Griffith, who is either very good or very mediocre, was knocked out for the second consecutive time Thursday. The red-head is now 2-3, and both his victories have been shutouts.

In losing six of their eight home games, the Fox Cities have scored just 25 runs, or slightly over three a game. The opposition has counted 43, or about 5.4 a game here.

On the road, where they are now 5-7, the Foxes have exacted 11 equalled the enemy run total (66, or 5.5 per contest).

First baseman Bob Mason, a blatant example has had just two singles in 29 at bats here for a .069 average and he's gone hitless in 20 straight of Goodland field appearances.

On the road on the other hand, he's sailing along with a .300 average.

The series is the last for the Braves in the current road trip.

Milwaukee swept a pair at Los Angeles and won two at San Francisco before the Giants' winning streak Wednesday.

Tonight's game is the first of five with the Phillies who broke an 8-game losing streak with a 3-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday. The series is the last for the Braves in the current road trip.

Curlers Reach Financial Goal for New Building

The Appleton Curling Club Thursday night approved construction of new quarters at an estimated cost of $70,000.

The annual meeting was highlighted by the report that the subscription goal of $20,000 from club members had been realized. The remaining $50,000 will be secured through a loan.

The club will advertise for bids shortly. Construction is slated to begin by about July 15. The club hopes to occupy the new building by the end of November.

Located off Highway 41 (in the town of Menasha), northwest of Neenah, the new building will have four cutting sheets in its one-story section. Then in the 2-story section there'll be a spectators' viewing area, a dining lounge, a women's lounge and a kitchen on the top floor, and a refrigeration room, furnace room, tap room and men's locker room on the lower floor.

W. W. "Dobbie" Robertson, Appleton, was elected president during the meeting at Stroebe's Island. T. William "Bill" Schiesner and Carl Malmberg, Appleton, were named first and second vice presidents, respectively.

Re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively were Neenah's Frank Farver and Appleton's Ed Adam.

Ridgeway And Muni To be Sites

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

The Fox Cities Amateur golf tournament, which has been growing in prestige, popularity and performance since its 1954 inception, will be played this year on the Appleton Muni and Neenah Ridgeway courses.

Opening volleys in the 36-hole medal test will be fired at "Muni" Saturday, June 20. The wind-up session is scheduled for Ridgeway Sunday, June 21.

Entries are being accepted by the Appleton Post-Crescent — sponsor for the sixth straight year — starting today. The registration deadline is midnight, Saturday, June 13. No entries will be accepted at the tee.

Last year, the tourney reached a new high in popularity, with 98 players challenging Neenah Ridgeway and Appleton Butte des Morts.

John Lindberg, who ended the 2-year title reign of Don Strutz, came up with the best 36-hole performance in the meet's history — a card of 145. Lindberg beat out runner-up Bob Ferrel by three strokes.

The last time Appleton Muni and Ridgeway served as co-hosts for the tourney was in 1957. On that occasion Strutz annexed a second successive title, outlasting Charlie Steingraber in an exciting finish.

Since Ridgeway's Herb Stinski won the inaugural tourney, Butte des Morts representatives have graced the winner's circle four straight times — Strutz twice, and Don Jabas and Lindberg each once.

In team competition, BDM has won three times and Ridgeway twice. This separate duel — in which the low five individual scores for each club or course are tabulated — will again be a part of the tourney.

The Fox Cities tourney is the only test in which the area's best public and private club players compete. Eligibility is restricted to players who live in the Fox Cities area or are affiliated with one of its clubs or courses — Fox Valley, Ridgeway, North Shore, Bridgeview, Riverview and Appleton Muni.

The other principal eligibility requirement is that the player's handicap be 10 or less. (Complete rules and an application in each city not entirely blank appear elsewhere in this page.) The entry fee is $5.

Rifle-Arm Fox Cities Center fielder Bennie Sinquefeld fired the ball to third baseman "Potato" Pascual in the fifth inning of Thursday night's game to nail Des Moines' John Kennedy trying to go from first to third on Tom Borman's single. Des Moines posted a 7-4 victory in the opener of a 3-game series.

Lincoln Wins In 17 Innings

Stretches Streak To 11 Games; Green Bay Bows

By The Associated Press

First-place Lincoln needed 4½ hours of tense action to wrap up its latest Three-I league victory.

The Chiefs stopped Cedar Rapids, 4-3, in 17 innings Thursday night for their eleventh straight triumph.

'Deacon' Jones singled, stole second and continued to third base on an overthrown Gene Martin's fly brought in the run that handed last-place Cedar Rapids another setback.

Run First

Elsewhere Des Moines beat Fox Cities 7-4. Topeka defeated Burlington 8-1 and Sioux present major leagues. By the time the National and American leagues met in the first round of the playoffs, the Sox collected two hits as the loops in 10 or 12 club organizations up six runs in at bats.

Wholesale Realignment

"The approach is to a third league," he said.

The statement from the club owners loosed a flood of speculation.

One was—How about ball players?

A third major league would need 200 players under the present player limit rule.

To that Frick said: "The players will develop if you have the jobs for them."

He said there was no discussion in the meeting of player talent or a possible 'share the player' plan with a new league.

Another question was—How about the cost and the effect on the minors?

One of the qualifications set up in the meeting Thursday was that the new league would be responsible for all territorial provisions and financial obligations necessary to set it up.

The best guess was that tack attests. They spotted the hosts a 1-0 lead through the third, then sent Griffith in for soap and water in a 4-run fourth and never again went behind.

Center fielder Frank Capitani and shortstop John Kennedy each cracked three hits and third baseman John Simicich rapped two. Right fielder Paul Price collected just one in three trips but it was a big 3-run triple.

Villa Hits Again
Second baseman Hernan Valdes Villa ran his modest current hitting streak to five successive games, with a double and a single in three at bats. He's hit in eight of his 11 contests with the club and is now batting .320.

Shortstop "Zorro" Versalles singled twice. Pascual, "Chuck" Weatherspoon and new left fielder Jake Wood each had one bingle. "Spoon's" driving in two of the four runs.

The Fox Cities grabbed their 1-0 lead in the first when Bennie Sinquefield reached on an error and then hustled all the way home from first on Villa's double to the left center field fence.

In the Des Moines fourth, John Simicich's single, two walks and a fielder's choice loaded the bases with two out. Then Price emptied them with his blast to right center field. A walk to pitcher Shively finished Griffith. Then Capitani singled off Lee Stange to drive in Price.

Makes It 5-1
Des Moines made it 5-1 in the fifth on a walk and consecutive singles by Kennedy and Tom Borman. The Foxes shaved it to 5-3 in the sixth. Versalles singled to short center field and went to second on Villa's infield rap. Weatherspoon plopped a base hit into short right field and the fast Versalles and Villa both legged it home when Price had trouble with the ball. Wood and Mason walked but then Manager Jack McKeon struck out to end the inning.

Singles by Simicich and Kennedy, errors on Castellanos and Versalles, a stolen base and a passed ball made it 7-3 in the top of the seventh.

In the Fox Cities seventh, Versalles beat out a bunt. Moved to second when Sinquefield walked, to third on Dave Emerich, Roosevelt Pole vaulter, on his way up to a new record in the Fox Valley Freshman league track meet Thursday afternoon at Neenah. Emerich vaulted 10 feet, 4 inches (actual measurement) to better the old standard by better than a foot.

A strange combination of sports pages verifies Pelkin's contention that the winning height in the 1942 FRVC meet was Bennett's 12 feet, 5 1/2 inches. That's almost 7 inches under the height that Tom was supposed to have made on that May day in Fond du Lac. McGuire was 2nd.

Appleton YMCA Physical Director Mickey McGuire, who finished second to Bennett in the 1942 meet with a vault of 10 feet, 10 inches didn't remember the exact height of Tom's winning leap but knows it was under 13 feet.

Further researching into the files reveals that several weeks after the conference meet Bennett set a new Wisconsin Class A record. The height—13 feet, 8 inches. Apparently, a league statistician somewhere along the line substituted Tom's state meet height for his lesser performance in conference competition.

Just, who, ironically, is another West pole vaulter, won last weekend's pole vault with a height measured 12 feet, 6 inches on the pole vault standards.

No measurement of possible sag in the cross bar was made after the 12-6 effort because everyone assumed that the record was 13 and 8.

It's questionable whether Just's mark will be recognized, for this reason. And, other FRVC vaulters may have been similarly short-changed in the past.

A multiple brother act held forth in last Sunday's Nichols-Navarino Dairyland Baseball league game.

Playing for Nichols were brothers Kay (shortstop), Jerry (third baseman) and Emro (right fielder) Plamann. Their cousins, Le Roy (second base) and Dennis (center field) Plamann were performing for Navarino. LeRoy and Dennis are brothers.

There are two other brother combinations on the Navarino team: Marvin (third base) Wendell (catcher) and Harvey (third base-pitcher) Pues; and Jerry (first base) Jim (second base) and Jack (shortstop) Herb.

That's not all. Jim and Keith Krull of Nichols are first cousins. And, Nichols pitcher Joe Buss is a brother-in-law to Jerry Plamann.

(Despite Navarino's 3-1 edge in brother "Combos," Nichols won the game, 4-3).

Former major league umpire Jim Tobin, now supervisor of all arbitrators in the minors, took in the Fox Cities-Sioux City series here earlier this week.

Tobin, who represents George Trautman head of the minors, said that the Fox Cities Foxes have "the outstanding operation in the Three-I league in advertising sales, general appearance of the park, interest and cooperation

Neenah Dethrones Roosevelt as Frosh League Track Champ

Wins 5 Events; Dick Emerich Smashes Pole Vault Record

Neenah — Neenah won its sixth Fox Valley Freshman league track championship here Thursday afternoon in a meet highlighted by a record-breaking performance in the pole vault by Dave Emerich of Appleton's Roosevelt Junior High school.

The Rockets won five events, including the relay, and did no worse than third in the others to finish with 48 points. Defending champion

Roosevelt was second with 42 1/2.

Emerich bettered the pole vault record by almost 1 1/2 feet, winning in 10 feet, 4 inches. The old mark was 9 feet even. His mark was the only new record of the day.

Teammate Dale Uecker, an eighth grader, also bettered the old record before leaving at 10 feet.

Cops 75-Yard Dash
Uecker gave Roosevelt its other first with a win in the 75 yard dash, edging Stewart Schwerin of Neenah. His time was 8.6.

Schwerin won the broad jump with a leap of 17 feet, 6 1/2 inches. Teammate Joe Began, an eighth grader, copied the 100-yard dash in 1:11.45.

Other Neenah victors were Dave Burton in the high jump with 4 feet, 11 inches, although he has done better in winning varsity meets, Dale Howe, low hurdles in 13.05 and 880-yard relay team, 1:41.6, just 2 away from the meet record.

Bunn Takes 660
Kaukauna scored strongest in the shot put, won by Bob Wurdinger on a throw of 37 feet, 3 1/2 inches. The Ghosts also got a second.

The other first place went to Dick Bunn of Wilson in the 660 yard run. He took the lead at the start and led all the way. He added another four points with a second in the broad jump.

er) can't catch a ball. Richie Ashburn is throwing like a girl, and Wally Post isn't hitting. And we have no catching."

In an effort to pump some life into his club, Quinn has been dealing with Milwaukee and has acquired six former Braves.

The latest to join the club is pitcher Hubert Robinson. Others are Gene Conley and Taylor Phillips, also pitchers, and infielders Harry Hanebrink and Joe Koppe and Carl Sawatski.

Ready to play tonight is Johnny O'Brien, who came to the Braves in the deal for Conley, Koppe and Hanebrink. He was bothered by leg trouble in San Francisco but says he's ready to play again. He'll be at second base despite a lowly .206 batting average.

At this point his average has not been too important with every other starter but Eddie Mathews hitting over .300. Mathews has a .293 record and has belted 14 homers and driven in 30 runs. Leading the attack is Hank Aaron with a .456 average, 12 homers and 36 runs batted in.

Manager Fred Haney will open the series with Lew Burdette who has two defeats against six victories. Robin Roberts, 2-2, will begin for the Phils.

of directors and business procedure."

Sheboygan Central High school golfers were on an incredibly rugged training schedule this spring.

Hard as it is to believe, the Redmen practiced from 5 to 9 p. m. every day five days a week. Their coach had them doing strenuous calisthenics—running, push-ups and weight-lifting—after the Redmen placed last in their first meet.

The hard work paid off in the Fox River Valley conference championship.

A controversy arose from Monday's 2-0 Fond du Lac High victory over Oshkosh in the Fondy District baseball tournament.

A slow roller by Oshkosh catcher Cook off Fond du Lac's "Hub" King was dropped momentarily by Fondy infielder Dick Bestor, and Cook beat it out. The Oshkosh newspaper headlined the game a 1-hitter by King.

But, the Fond du Lac paper said that official scorer Carl "Swede" Smedberg, former Hortonville coach, had ruled the play an error, thus giving King — well-publicized bonus prospect—another no-hitter.

Manitowoc Will Defend Crown On Home Courts

The Appleton High school tennis team will seek to improve upon its 1958 fifth-place finish in the Fox River Valley conference meet Saturday at Manitowoc.

The Terrors, who finished only one point out of fourth place last year, have compiled a 7-3 record for 1959 dual meet play.

AHS Coach Ken Sager has selected Dick Pearson and Marty Semmelhack to handle the regular singles assignment, with Jon Keckonen due to play in the reserve singles category.

Terry Schroeder and John Cover will form the Terror doubles combination. Of the five players named, only

More Traffic Seen at Ballard Road Crossing

PSC to Rule in 30 Days on Requests for Automatic Controls

Increased traffic to the Outagamie county airport when commercial air service is established was cited Thursday as one of the reasons flashing signals are needed at the Ballard road railroad crossing.

Raymond P. Dohr, county corporation counsel, pointed to the probable traffic increase as one reason why signals should be installed. The Public Service commission hearing was held at the courthouse Thursday.

Two fatalities have occurred at the crossing. March 9 Fatality

Most recent was the March 9 fatality of Robert Maloney, Appleton, 17, a passenger in a car which struck a train.

The hearing stemmed from public demand that something be done to lessen the danger of accidents.

Hugo Muehrcke of the PSC, said it would be 30 days before any action is taken by the commission.

Thirteen Present
Among the 13 people at the hearing were City Atty. Don Jury, four representatives of the Chicago and North Western Railroad, Outagamie County Highway Commissioner Clarence J. Brownson, Dohr, Grand Chute town chairman Arthur Lecker, and two citizens who said they had a personal interest in the case.

Grand Chute has joined the Appleton council petition to install signals. Now there are warning approach signs, 500 feet on each side of the crossing, and signs without lights near the crossing.

Brownson said "Although there are other side streets, most people will use Ballard road driving to the airport when air service is installed. 'In 1958,' Brownson said, Semmelhack saw action in last year's FRVC test. Pearson, a transfer student, has won nine of 10 singles matches this season.

Manitowoc, the almost perennial champion, will defend its laurels in its home courts.

Last year, Fond du Lac North and Oshkosh rounded out the first division behind Manty.

'Meet Mr. Lincoln' Display Will be At Valley Fair

"Meet Mr. Lincoln," the State Historical Society's 1959 historymobile about the life of Lincoln, will be at the Valley Fair Shopping center from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. May 28.

The exhibit is part of a 150th anniversary celebration of Lincoln's birth. It is housed in a 40-foot trailer financed by the Wisconsin Lincoln Bicentennial committee for about $7,500.

The Valley Fair stop is part of a 7-month state-wide tour which began in April with ceremonies at Camp Randall, Madison. It will be shown at the state fair Aug. 21 to 30 and 150 other Wisconsin cities through Oct. 24.

Dioramas Included
The exhibit includes dioramas, Lincoln documents, tools and utensils common to his period. The dioramas depict his birthplace, school years, early manhood, political ascendancy and his assassination.

The 100th anniversary of Lincoln's visit to Wisconsin in September, 1859, will be commemorated at the state fair. He delivered a speech at the fair in Milwaukee then. He also was in Wisconsin for two weeks in 1832 as a soldier in the Black Hawk war.

The historymobile is one of three projects of the state's Lincoln committee. The committee also hopes to purchase rare Lincoln documents for the society's library and to plan a special celebration at the state fair.

Phils End Slide

Revamped Bucs Hand Cards 7-2 Setback

By the Associated Press

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh might be wondering why he didn't speak up sooner. His lecture on curfew and all didn't sink in until he shuffled the lineup, but then his sixth-place Pirates got the idea.

Thursday night they put aside a slump that draped them with four defeats in five games and scored a 12-hit, errorless 7-2 victory at St. Louis.

Worst Skid Ends
Murtaugh, who reminded his Bucs of the club's 2 a. m. curfew after they lost the Tuesday opener at St. Louis. The shock up the lineup after they were whipped again Wednesday. He replaced shortstop Dick Groat with Dick Schofield and made Rocky Nelson his first baseman in place of the alternating Ted Kluszewski and Dick Stuart.

The worst skid of the year came to an end in the only other National league game scheduled when the Philadelphia Phillies, who had lost eight in a row, won, 3-0, at Chicago behind Ruben Gomez's 4-hit pitching.

The Pirates ripped into Cardinal right-hander Lindy McDaniel (2-5) for three runs in the third against reliever Ernie Broglio. Don Hoak and Bill Mazeroski each drove in two runs for the Pirates, with Hoak scoring another after doubling for his third hit.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix (3-2) was the winner. Gomez and Cub rookie Bob Anderson had a shutout duel going until the eighth. The Phils, who had managed just two hits, scored twice on Sunday, a double by "Sparky" Anderson and sacrifice flies by Jim Hegan and Richie Ashburn.

They got their return run in the ninth on Wally Post's triple and their third sacrifice fly, this one by Jones.

Predicts Russia Will Become World Scientific Leader

Milwaukee — Dr. Edward Teller, one of half a dozen physicists who pioneered the development of the hydrogen bomb, predicted Wednesday night the Soviet Union will be the world's scientific leader in 10 years.

"All we can hope to do is regain our lost leadership at some later date," Teller said in a speech at Marquette university. "Ten years from now, Russia's position as the world leader in science will be unquestioned. Nothing we can do will change that."

Teller, a professor of physics at the University of California at Berkeley, said: "The world will also be modeled after Russian ideas and not after our own by the end of the century."

Jordan Says Ports Vital to Industry

Appleton Industrial Development Leader Howden Moderates Panel

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Green Lake — Industry prefers cities with airports, although an airport is not enough to bring an industry into a city, Thomas E. Jordan, state aeronautical commission director, told the annual Governor's Conference on Industrial Development here Thursday.

About 300 heard the transportation panel, moderated by Appleton Industrial Development corporation President George A. Howden.

Jordan said 20 communities replying to an airport benefit survey indicated that 215 of more than 300 industries queried about locating in the cities wished to know if the cities had airports.

In 17 cities, 50 industries with more than 3,000 employees indicated they picked their location partially because of an airport in the city, the survey showed.

Airport Business

It sometimes is forgotten that an airport is itself a business, Jordan declared. In 23 communities, the survey showed that $32 million business volume was done and more than 7,000 persons worked on and for the ports, including military.

Jordan pointed out the state aeronautical commission wants to continue its airport benefit survey but the legislature has declined to give it funds.

The commission within the last year has brought about addition of a new air route to the state, Jordan said.

(The route is between Minneapolis and Milwaukee, and includes Appleton. North Central Airlines is fighting the route and so far has refused to conform to the civil aeronautics board order for service. North Central says it objects to serving Marshfield and Eau Claire on the route.)

State Plan

Airports in the state are constructed under a state-wide plan made in 1945, Jordan said. At present, the Milwaukee metropolitan area including seven cities, portion of the plan is under revision.

Communities throughout the state have been losing bus and train service and should be thinking about alternative means of transportation, Jordan said.

In addition, business aircraft use is the fastest growing segment of the aviation industry and the growth promises to continue, Jordan declared. Since 1947, the state and federal airport aid program has spent $22 million on public airports, he added.

Roads Index

The condition of roads in any area of the world is an index of the degree of economic development, declared Bryson R. L'Hommiedieu, director of the planning and research division of the state highway commission.

A highway system underlies all other means of transportation, L'Hommiedieu said. He pointed out that Wisconsin has 100,000 miles of roads, yet only 11,500 miles of roadway are in the state trunk system.

For years, he explained, the state has pursued a policy of building better secondary roads, and the state today has the finest secondary network in the United States.

Because of lack of knowledge of the impact of the interstate system now under construction in the state, the highway commission has contracted with the University of Wisconsin for a complete evaluation, L'Hommiedieu said. The study will range from the impact of the road on bypassed communities to the impact on social activities in nearby communities, he explained.

A state survey released in April indicated 400 vacant manufacturing buildings in the state, 36 per cent of them multi-story, Howden explained. Irving M. Footlik, Skokie, Ill., architect and materials moving consultant, commented industry has swung too far into the single-story, tremendously long building and present thinking is in 2-story terms.

He demonstrated by chute, conveyor and elevators how manufacturers could utilize multi-story buildings, commenting that such a building could be purchased for from 50 cents to $2 a square foot compared to $4 and up for a new building.

Labor Leader Asks Better Relationships

Differences Keep Nation Moving, Haberman Claims

George Haberman, state president of the AFL-CIO, told personnel directors from Appleton and Neenah — Menasha Thursday night that labor and management must continue to disagree "so we do not become a stagnant nation."

"We must go forward. It's the wealth of the nation that's being produced" when labor receives a larger income. The income in turn creates a stronger society, he claimed.

Technological advances are worthless, the labor leader stated, if they are not implemented by workers. It takes the skill of workers to put into effect the ideas of the management. This means that employers must invest in the skill of their employees, he said.

Work Jointly

Haberman claimed profits and losses should be described to employees because labor and management must work jointly to keep the country free. Profits mean nothing if they do not aid the nation's economy, he stated.

When strikes and management impasses occur, this to me spells poor management on both sides of the table, he said. If the rank and file membership is informed about the business it's going to be cognizant and won't permit outside labor forces to come in and force organization, he added.

"No one can accuse Labor of opening new areas of employment and absorb displaced labor into the economy," he said. "It seeks benefits to all segments of society." Consequently, the cost should be measured in terms of welfare to society.

Social Security

He called social security an employer insurance policy. It permits older workers to move into private life and let the younger elements of the population take over, he said.

But the program has a long way to go.

Labor also must accept the responsibility "to bring about a way of taxation that will build more schools," Haberman said. The United States is far behind in teachers' wages and classroom facilities, he claimed. Capable students are given no incentive to go into teaching when they can go into commercial labor earning twice as much a year as the people who taught them the three R's, he said.

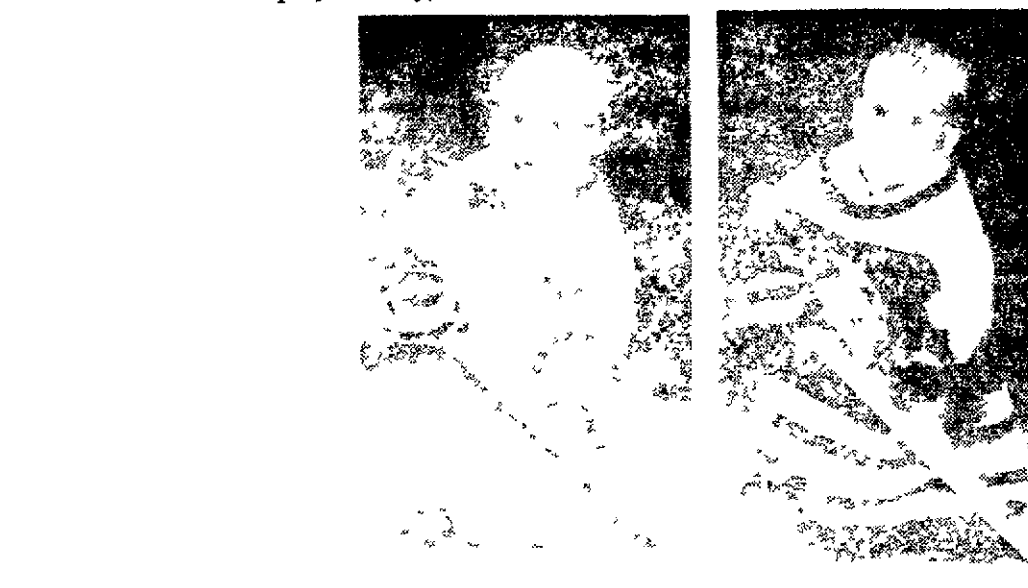

This is an impossible situation, he continued. "We will be lost without a stronger educational system."

More Jobs Now

Haberman said getting workers to accept progress is difficult because many of them do not understand that increased automation will open new areas of employment.

Photos Common

Color Reproduction Complicated Process

BY TERRY McMALE
Post-Crescent News Service

Color in photography is becoming more common every day. Nearly every camera, including the simple box camera, can be used successfully for color slides and prints.

Reproducing a color picture in a newspaper or magazine is a far more complicated process. We'll attempt to explain a bit about that today. Some of the terms will not be technically accurate for the sake of simplicity, and we hope the color experts will forgive us for that.

Let's start from scratch, with the color film. All present color films are actually three films in one, with three separate layers. One layer records everything red in a picture, another the blue and the third the yellow.

To produce other colors, combinations of these three are used. For example, green will be recorded in both the blue and yellow layers. When viewed, the blue and yellow combination will appear green. Other colors are produced by various other combinations.

After a picture has been taken on color film for newspaper reproduction, three black and white prints are made from it. Filters are used as the prints are made so that each print corresponds to one of the layers in the film. One print will represent all that is red in the picture, another the blue and the third the yellow.

To check the color balance of the three prints, they are placed in a device called a color analyzer. Through a system of mirrors and colored filters, the black and white prints are viewed in their separate colors, overlaying each other. The viewer, therefore, sees the prints as though they were one colored picture.

Three Engravings

The next step is the engraving process. Separate zinc engravings are made of each of the black and white prints. They must be exactly the same size, and must be treated exactly the same way throughout the engraving process so that they retain the characteristics of the original prints. Black and white proofs of the engravings are also checked in the analyzer.

Reproducing the engravings on press plates is the next step. A sheet of special cardboard is placed over the zinc engravings and a cardboard mold is made by applying heat and pressure. This mold is then used to make a cylindrical metal form, which is placed on the press, one for each of the plates. Great care must be taken in this operation to insure that the three forms are the same in regard to perspective.

It is recognized that deepening the connecting channels to 27 feet and construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway will not result in corresponding deepening of harbor channels at all Great Lakes ports," Nelson said.

Need Justification

Nelson repeated the corps of engineers' warning that individual port improvement projects must have economic justification and that it is not automatic that all ports will get a 27 foot depth because of the seaway.

"Each harbor must be considered individually as well as collectively with other harbors in the area, and the improvements recommended at any individual harbor and even in portions of harbors must be justified on their respective merits. It is recognized to the position of the plate on the page.

The final step is the printing. As the paper moves through the press, the plate representing the original yellow in the picture, inked in yellow, is applied. The paper moves on to another part of the press where the red ink is superimposed on the yellow and finally to a third section where the blue is applied. The final result, if everything has been done correctly through the entire process, is a color picture in the paper.

Federal Report Expected Soon On Bay Harbor

Recommendations For Improvements To Be Listed in Detail

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — A federal report on the port of Green Bay which will contain the answer to what harbor improvements are recommended for the city because of the deepened St. Lawrence Seaway is scheduled for completion in June 1960.

Edwin W. Nelson, chief engineering consultant for the Chicago district of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, gave the date in response to a question after a talk here to the governor's conference on industrial development.

Milwaukee Harbor

Nelson said a similar report covering the Milwaukee harbor is scheduled for completion next month.

The federal engineering and economic reports on individual Great Lakes ports are based on research and hearings dating from congressional directives in 1956.

At a federal hearing in 1957, the Brown county harbor commission asked for an eventual entrance channel depth of 27 feet to match the deepened seaway and said the port needs a 24-foot depth for existing traffic. The channel depth now is 15 feet.

Need Justification

Nelson repeated the corps of engineers' warning that individual port improvement projects must have economic justification and that it is not automatic that all ports will get a 27 foot depth because of the seaway.

"Each harbor must be considered individually as well as collectively with other harbors in the area, and the improvements recommended at any individual harbor and even in portions of harbors must be justified on their respective merits. It is recognized

Duke of Windsor Asked to Give Facts on Murder

Nassau, Bahamas — The Duke of Windsor should come to Nassau and reveal what information he has on the murder of Sir Harry Oakes more than 15 years ago, says a Bahamas political leader.

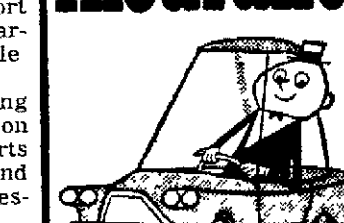

The house of assembly unanimously approved a resolution to ask Scotland Yard to reinvestigate the murder of the millionaire's killing.

"I feel it imperative that the Duke of Windsor come to Nassau to reveal information he has at his disposal concerning the murder," Stevenson said yesterday. "It was the duke's bungling that was responsible for the investigation not being carried through."

Stevenson said that Raymond Schindler, an American detective, told me without doubt he could put his hand on the murderer who he said is a member of the Bay street political party."

nized that deepening the connecting channels to 27 feet and construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway will not result in corresponding deepening of harbor channels at all Great Lakes ports," Nelson said.

Population Explosion In Latin America, Far East Termed Threat

L. E. Pasek Discusses Foreign Policy
In Talk to League of Women Voters

Neenah — "Perhaps even more dangerous" than the communist threat is the population explosion in India, China, the Middle East and in some Latin American countries, Leonard E. Pasek, assistant to the president of Kimberly-Clark corporation and a member of the National Chamber of Commerce committee on foreign policy, told the League of Women Voters meeting Thursday at the Valley Inn.

His talk culminated the first year of study of United States foreign policy by the League and Pasek assured them that groups such as theirs have an important voice in this country's foreign affairs, but it must be a voice that is responsible and effective. Many outstanding businessmen are not blind to shortcomings of the foreign aid program, Pasek stated. Better administration, less waste and more effective uses of appropriated funds are important. But at the same time it is equally important to realize that some form of mutual assistance and cooperation is essential for survival and welfare as a nation, he said.

Pasek Tells Women Voters Of Foreign Aid

World war II is that of dealing with communism, both the ideology and power ambled by Russia.

There has been no change of heart on the part of communist dictators but tactics have changed, he pointed out, declaring the tactics now are subtle and indirect and therefore more dangerous.

Explosive economic and social forces are at work in the underdeveloped countries of the world, Pasek continued in citing that communism was not the only problem.

In discussing the mutual security program which has cost the taxpayer about $4 billion a year in recent years, Pasek cited both the advantages and the disadvantages.

Foreign aid has helped Europe recover from the ravages of World War II, has helped save Turkey, Greece and Iran from Soviet indirect aggression and has helped to halt or prevent communist aggression in Korea, Vietnam and Formosa and has helped assure our access to world sources of supply and world markets.

But, on the other hand, foreign aid always carries with it the risk that certain allies may withdraw from or revise their commitments, or that less developed countries may some day succumb to communist subversion despite our aid, Pasek declared.

Give Method To Determine Freezer Cost

Oshkosh — The total cost of producing or buying the food to put in a freezer, packaging materials and fuel will help decide whether it is economical to freeze food at home. One needs to credit the difference between this total and the cost of buying similar foods in the market as the labor costs or savings.

The cost of frozen storage runs from 10 to 28 cents a pound of food stored, says Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent. This includes the price of the freezer spread over a 10-year period. If you refill your freezer two or three times a year, you cut the cost toward 10 cents a pound. Filling the freezer only once brings the cost up.

If you freeze home grown produce, a little at a time and as it matures, it is easier than freezing a large amount at one time. Having the right packaging materials, simple funnels and good equipment makes the job a simple one, too.

Stage Crews Share Stardom With Cast in 'Tinder Box'

BY ALLAN EKVAL

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Neenah — The stars of the Neenah High Thespians "The Tinder Box" were not just those on the stage but those behind the scenes who devised and set up the intricate lighting and stage arrangements. The play opened Thursday night and will be presented at 8 p.m. tonight and Saturday.

This was the first time the dramatic club, advised by Kenneth Anderson, tried an arena type or "in the round" presentation of a play and the old gymnasium had to be converted into the arena.

This meant setting up drop cloths to keep the sound from going beyond the bleachers that ringed the stage, wiring and setting up lights of different colors to go on and off at different times from a central control point.

The crews of the stage manager, Dave Loynd, also had to make a "magical" spinning wheel run by itself and a grotesque head to suspend from the sky, light up and talk. All of this took considerable ingenuity and the Thespians' crews and their helpers did the job well.

Fantasy Play
"The Tinder Box" by Nicholas Stuart Gray is a fantasy about a young out-of-a-job soldier who finds a magical tinder box and ends up marrying the princess who has been imprisoned by her stern father, the king, in the castle tower because of a fortune teller's prophecy she would marry a soldier.

Ron Fuss does well as the soldier while Sue Fischer is a pretty princess and Larry Rymer the stern king. Pauline Larson was the queen while the soldier's fair weather friends were Jim Vogt, Carl Ziem and Nancy Brendenick.

The burden of carrying the play falls upon the shoulders of the witch, most capably played by Sue Hammill. If she does a good job in her difficult role as the old crony with the cackly voice and corkscrew-shaped stature, the play is a success. If she doesn't the play is weakened.

Much of the lines and action is hers and Miss Hammill was equal to the task assigned her and made the play ring with success.

Comedy Touch
Comedy was provided also by the two kittens, portrayed by Jill Parker and Jane Hauser, who were slaves of the witch and the three dogs, Bill Bayley, Bill Shockley and Dave Goodwin, who were the only true friends of the soldier.

Also in the cast were Roger Zimmerman as a conviving innkeeper and Harlan Hirschy and Steve Lanser as soldiers.

Working in that stage crew were Jim Banks as lighting chairman, with Jeff Greenfield, Bill Day and Dick Dwelle as his assistants, and Gary Cummings as stage chairman, aided by Jim Jensen, Gary Stelow, Steve Lanser, Bill Ellis and Harlan Hirschy.

Rockets End M-E Slate With 8-0; Capture Crown

Neenah — Neenah earned its 12th tennis win in 13 starts by blanking Shawano 7-0 here Thursday afternoon.

The victory gave the Rockets an 8-0 mark in Mid-Eastern conference play. They've won the title every year but two since the league was organized.

Sophomore Steve Price, playing at No. 1, was extended three sets before defeating Wally Knopke 6-0, 4-6, 7-5. Doug Ankerson bested Bill Rosin 6-1, 6-1 at the second spot.

Other singles wins were Paul Valente over "Chuck" Huebner 6-1, 6-1, Dale Mrotek over "Chuck" LaMarche 6-0, 6-0 and John Schmeier over Ken Radtke 6-2, 6-0.

Hoppe and Mrotek topped Rosin and LaMarche 6-1, 6-0 and Schmeier and Bob Kosloske whipped Knopke and Huebner 6-1, 6-4 in doubles play.

St. John Tackles Waukesha Memorial Nine; Menashans Make Appearance in 7th Meet Menasha — St. Mary makes its first state Catholic high school tournament appearance since 1957 when it meets Stevens Point Pacelli at 8 o'clock tonight at the Menasha ball park.

The Zephyrs' 1-7 record wasn't good enough for consideration last year, marking the first time in the 7-year history of the meet that they weren't represented.

Pacelli is a familiar foe, having played and lost to the Menashans by 5-0 and 10-2 scores on May 7. St. Mary pitchers didn't allow a run until the seventh inning of the second game.

Young Team
The Cardinals have a young team and Jim Kryshak, the No. 2 pitcher, is the only senior. Bob Paveliski, who hurled the first game, probably will get the starting mound nod.

Tom Balthazor is expected to be the St. Mary starter with Bill Steger in reserve.

St. Mary is four games below .500 with its 7-11 record but there probably isn't a team in the state that has been up against any tougher competition. Two of the wins were over Fond du Lac and Oshkosh.

Yachters Plan New Course, Sailing School

First Races Set On Memorial Day; Discuss Regatta

Neenah — A sailing school and a new Olympic course are planned by the Neenah Nodaway Yacht club which opens its sailing season Memorial day. Final plans for the approaching season were announced at the club's spring meeting Wednesday night at the Whiting boathouse.

Director Frank Grundman, who reported on the sailing school, said plans are in the tentative stage. He said the school would be divided into two sections, learn-to-sail and, learn-to-race. It would consist of eight sessions, none on weekends, and would begin in mid-June.

Easier to Maintain

The new Olympic course, in which the buoys are arranged in a circular position with the home buoy in the center, is used in Olympic, sailing and for Gold Cup racing. It allows a better selection for a true beat to the weather on the first leg, according to Director Eric Isakson.

Isakson said the course would be easier to maintain than the old triangular course, and it has the approval of the Coast Guard. The course is 1 1/2 miles in diameter.

E. O. Woerner was announced as heading the club's publicity committee. He will be assisted by Dick DuBois and Toni Nelson.

Don Craig reported on the "D" invitational regatta which will be held here the weekend of July 31. Craig and Bill Baldwin are co-chairmen. Commodore Bob Kimberly announced that Ed Malone of Fond du Lac had been appointed chief judge.

Kimberly reported that the club will have 10 new X boat skippers this season and that plugs and buoys will go in soon. He explained that an inspection of all boats will be held at the dock sometime in June, either the weekend of the 20th or 27th.

A list of persons who wish to crew will be posted on the club's bulletin board.

Mac's Tangle With OSC in Third Start

Menasha — The Menasha Macs gun for their third straight win, the second in non-league play, when they meet Oshkosh State college at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Oshkosh's Municipal field on Sawyer avenue.

The Menashans turned back Clintonville and Valley Fair in their first two starts. They draw a bye in Fox River Valley league play this weekend.

The Titans closed their schedule against college teams with an 8-0 blanking of St. Norbert Thursday.

Jim Meyer is expected to pitch for the Macs, probably against Al Harke or Len Puhary.

Oshkosh took advantage of 14 Mac errors to register 7-3, 9-4 wins in last year's twin bill. The titans had a 5-run frame in each game.

Rita Lampman Rolls 506 Series for Tops In Couples' Pin Loop

Menasha — Anita Walters had a 212 game and Rita Lampman a 506 series in the last edition of the Advance Auto Couples Bowling league at the Mid-Town alleys. There were no men's honor scores.

Brighten Home For Summer

Start With Rooms, Windows; Dreary Areas Need Fixing

In the spring a young housewife's fancy is likely to turn to refurbishing her home. The slip covers look winter- worn, and the rug appears mildewed now that the gray light of winter has been re- placed by the warm golden light of sunshine.

Where shall we start? New curtains in the kitchen? New lamp shades in the living room? Or perhaps we should begin with the wide expanse of picture window that invites the bright spring light into the room. Here are some of the questions that fly about at this time of the year:

Color Scheme
"The color scheme of my living room is light green, gray and white. The walls are green, woodwork white, sofa and rug are gray, and two chairs are green. I have bought a large planter to put along my picture window. It will hold from 8 to 10 plants. Should I try to organize a va- riety of plants? Do you have a list of those that will hold their bloom through spring and summer?"

You could achieve a beau- tiful effect at your windows with coral color geraniums. The advantage of geraniums is that if you keep them pinched back you will probably pro- mote healthy, vigorous blooms that will last through spring and summer. There are other plants that also would be ef- fective, such as wax-leaf be- gonias and African violets, and these too, should flatter your color scheme, but their growth and blooms are not as reli- able for your purposes as the geranium.

Small Bedrooms
"I live in the country. We have very small bedrooms, and they seem very dreary no matter what we do to liv- en them. I have painted these rooms several times without achieving the desired cheer- fulness."

Bright white paint is ideal for small country rooms. The semi-gloss paint gives a good matte finish that reflects the light and makes the room ap- pear larger. White curtains adds to the illusion of spaci- ousness, and if you are not averse to painting the furniture, paint it a very pale blue, yel- low, green, pink.

Decor Can Dress Up Window Around Air Conditioner

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you plan to dress up a window that will house an air conditioner, better take the decorating effect into consid- eration when planning the new look of your window.

You don't want to spurge on expensive draperies that will be out of step with the bulge created by your air conditioner. And you don't want to risk using a design pattern that will not lend a softening effect to the mech- anical gadget at the window.

Air conditioners are, of course, smaller than before. New thin types, just 13 inches deep, may be installed by the man of the house with a screw driver and saw in about 30 minutes. But you must still allow for even that small pro- tubérance.

Tailored Effect
A tailored effect at the win- dow seems to minimize the bulk created by the machine. The new no-iron broadcloth cafe curtains hung in tiers give a decorative look without sacrificing charm. Avoid us- ing curtains or draperies that must be pulled clear across the area.

Window shades may be used above the conditioner so

Towns Fight Withholding

State Association Says 80 Per Cent Want No Change

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Wisconsin town board members are over- whelmingly opposed to a with- holding system of collecting state income taxes, according to communication to the Wis- consin Towns association.

The association said that 80 per cent of all towns have been against the fiscal proposal of Gov. Nelson. Ben Hanneman of the association said that some county units of the town government organization voted unanimously against withholding.

The announcement was re- ceived with interest in the capital because farmers are not covered under the with- holding proposal, but towns would get a share of col- lections, nevertheless.

Stain With Sponges

You will find it easier to apply an oil stain or a water stain to raw wood with a cel- lulose sponge rather than with a brush. There's less dipping needed, and the square edges aid in doing corners and edg- es.

More decorating skill is re- quired to decorate around an air conditioning unit used in the living area, which is the more elegant part of the house.

The dining area, where the machine is popular because of the need for cool air at eating time, requires less imagination at a window, and the tailored look may offer the answer.

Dividers Useful, Emphasize Decor

Suppose you've combed the entire house for some place to add storage, to no avail. How about the interior walls and a bar cabinet; a section for partitions? In newer homes, they seldom bear the weight of the ceiling and can be re-placed by a storage wall. In older homes, where rooms are likely to be larger, the addition of storage facilities to an existing partition will take only a little more than a foot of the adjoining room's dimensions.

One plan for such a storage wall calls for five vertical sections, with several adjustable shelves within each. Plywood provides deep parallel grooves for the sides of each section, with the grooves running horizontally so shelves can slide in and out.

Few Fixed Units Since a storage wall consists only of open shelves without any of the fixed units (and of limited value), you'll want to plan a few fixed units to relieve the monotony. These might include a small, compact desk, a fold-down door, storage units with sliding panel doors, about the interior walls and a bar cabinet; a section for partitions? In newer homes, they seldom bear the weight of the ceiling and can be re-placed by a storage wall. In older homes, where rooms are likely to be larger, the addition of storage facilities to an existing partition will take only a little more than a foot of the adjoining room's dimensions.

Unit Storage Wall Takes the place of a useless partition. Besides open shelf storage, the wall can give a home to TV set, radio, record player and records, besides including a fold-down writing desk. A grooved fir plywood product is used on sides of sections to provide support for sliding shelves.

Roundup of Actions

Council Okays Vacating Eldorado, Approves Offers for School Lots

The city council has begun the new school construction. The council also will be permitted to expand the Edison school site. It also bought one of four apartment lots suggested to expand the site and settled upon prices it will offer for the other three.

Vacating the street, which nearly bisects the school property, passed without comment, and so did the purchase of Mrs. Sara Baker's 60 by 120-foot lot. Prices for the other three lots and a statement of policy drew comment from an alderman and a citizen.

The Baker lot will cost the city $14,000, half of which will be paid next January. No interest will be charged and the woman will be permitted to live in the home, rent and tax free, until it is needed in school on the present site.

She said the site is so inadequate by present standards the city ought to proceed with condemnation if negotiations fail.

$886,000 in Bonds The city attorney was instructed to hire Chapman and Cutler, Chicago bond consultants, to handle legal proceedings in the impending sale of $886,000 in general obligation bonds.

The council also passed the initial resolution authorizing sale of the bonds, to be repaid in 20 annual installments.

Of the total, $750,000 will go toward sewer constructions in outlying areas and $136,000 toward construction of a vocational school addition authorized earlier in the meeting.

The finance committee, meeting a half hour before the council, said sewer work cannot wait for determining whether there will be area assessments and how much is likely to be paid back in assessments.

Finances A total of $2,072.25 was ordered transferred from the diminishing contingent fund to pay Atty. Harry Hoefel's fees for work on the Wallace-Crowe case and to the mayor's office account for new equipment.

Exactly $6,218.40 was transferred from parking meter revenue reserves to the parking meter account to pay for 352 new parking meters, first of a 5-year replacement program.

Alton Court Ald. Ogilvie had the recommendation to build a driveway entrance at the Alton court intersection on the new high bridge approach referred back to committee. He said there are some new developments, but declined to reveal what they are.

Ballard Road Wigwags City Atty. Jury was instructed to appear at the state public service commission hearing on wigwags for the Ballard road crossing of the Chicago and North Western, favoring installation of the automatic signals.

Ald. Mrs. Stullings asked if the move would cost the city money. Mayor Mitchell said the city would be charged part of the installation costs. Jury said the last time this was done, wigwags cost the city about $1,300.

Police Station Work Architect Raymond N. Le Vee was hired to proceed with plans and specifications for a $72,600 addition to the police station, supplying about 4,344 more square feet of space.

In a committee of the whole discussion, a smaller addition was recommended.

Plumbing Code Question Still Under Study

Meeting of State Official, Works Board Sought

Drainlayers will be permitted to continue to install sewer and water laterals in Appleton.

Councilmen have referred back for study a board of public works recommendation that Plumbing Inspector Reginald Gloudehans "close his eyes" to the state plumbing code as defined in letters from the state board of health.

Instead, they agreed to ask a state official to appear before the board of public works to explain to the board and drainlayers what is required and why.

The board recommended Gloudehans close his eyes to violations on projects already underway, but enforce the code on all new projects.

What's What? The recommendation was referred back to the board for more study by a unanimous vote after Joseph Van Daalwyk, a drainlayer, asked whether he could or could not install laterals tomorrow or ever.

Van Daalwyk said all municipalities in the Fox Cities have received similar notices, and are going to ignore them.

The state laws have been on the books since 1919 and have never been enforced, he said.

He added plumbers in Kaukauna do not want to get into the lateral construction business and Kimberly Village President Alvin Fulcer has informed the state board his employees regard the law as unenforceable and a detriment to serving the public.

Director of Public Works was rejected when it was said the $72,000 would buy enough extra space to last the department as far into the future as anyone is willing to guess.

The addition will be built over the present garage and parking area west of the station. Part of the parking area will be roofed, but not enclosed.

Change Street At the request of Ald. Mrs. Stullings, Pine street between Riverdale drive and Bartell drive will be renamed Riverdale drive.

Lateral Bill J. O. Johnson was ordered paid $242.34 for repair of a sewer lateral at 1531 S. Madison street. Tenor Brothers Construction, Algoma, which was banned from city bidding for two years, will be asked to reimburse the city. The street committee believes Tenor crews damaged the lateral in 1957 when installing a storm sewer.

Probers Want To Hear Hoffa

Washington — (P) — The senate rackets committee says it wants to hear first-hand James R. Hoffa's views on any retaliatory strike threat.

Hoffa, teamsters union president, Wednesday denied he had threatened a nationwide labor walkout if restrictive labor laws are passed by congress.

He was quoted as making such a threat in a speech Tuesday at Brownsville, Texas.

The rackets committee said it wanted to question Hoffa in mid-June about corruption and will ask him then under oath about plans for any such strike.

Hoffa told newsmen yesterday there never would be a nationwide strike of the teamsters union. However, a story in the current issue of Life magazine quotes him as saying "we may eventually have to do what labor unions do in Europe and call general strikes."

The measure was less than the Wisconsin Motor Carriers association originally asked, but a spokesman said it will permit most truckers to operate more profitably.

Compromise Bill The compromise bill was worked out with the state highway commission. The truckers complained that they are under a competitive disadvantage because most of the surrounding states have more tolerant weight restrictions.

Truckers believe they can also win approval for the weight revisions in the assembly.

The legislature two years ago revised the tax requirements for heavier trucks, apparently in anticipation of liberalization of weight limits. The law provides that a truck with a capacity of 73,000 pounds shall pay an annual state license fee of $1,000.

Senate Passes Revisions on Truck Weights

Operators Say New Loads Will Permit Higher Profits

Madison — More liberal weight limits for Wisconsin commercial trucks are likely to be written into law soon.

The senate Thursday approved, 29 to 2, substantial revisions of the so-called bridge formula controlling the payloads of trucks and boosting Dusbynski said there is no reason why a man who can lay half a pipe can't lay the rest. The law is ridiculous, he maintained.

The law requires a licensed plumber to install laterals from the curb or lot line to the building and from active mains in the street to the curb or lot line. City ordinance permits drainlayers to do this work.

Work board members maintained there aren't enough plumbers, the change would hike costs appreciably and drainlayers would be forced out of business.

3 Fined Total Of $600 for Sturgeon Sale

Two Shawano Men,
1 From Clintonville
Involved in Charges

Clintonville — The illegal possession, sale and transportation of untagged sturgeon cost three men, one of them a member of the Waupaca county board, a total of $600 plus costs in court appearances here and at Shawano.

Men involved, the charges and the fines were:

Frank Hoppe, about 45, Shawano, possession of untagged sturgeon, $100, and selling sturgeon, $100.

Clifford Brandt, about 45, Shawano, possession of untagged sturgeon, $100; selling sturgeon, $100, and possession of parts of sturgeon, $50.

Walter Gehrt, Embarras, the Waupaca county board member, possession of untagged sturgeon, $75 and transporting untagged sturgeon, $75.

Hoppe and Brandt appeared before Judge Robert Fischer, Shawano. They were arrested by Conservation Warden Kenneth Corbett.

Gehrt, also arrested by Corbett, appeared before Justice Frank Sinkewicz, Clintonville. The warden's testimony indicated Gehrt had purchased sturgeon from the two Shawano men.

'Heat Wave' Gone, Cool Weather Back

Wisconsin's summer-like wave of warm and humid weather was shoved out early today by a mass of cool air that rolled all the way to northern Texas.

Appleton's temperature dropped from a high of 82 Thursday to a low of 52 early this morning. The temperature at 11 a.m. today was 56.

Temperatures fell to the 30's and 40's in the northwestern part of the state during the night and to the 40's and 50's elsewhere. Superior, with a near-freezing 33 degrees, was the coldest spot.

Showers were falling at mid-morning today in some areas along the Wisconsin-Illinois line. Elsewhere, fair to cloudy weather was reported.

Appleton Man New President Of Accountants

Roy E. Rickert, cost department manager and assistant purchasing agent for the Fox River Paper company, has been named president of the northern Wisconsin chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

Scattered Showers and Thunderstorms are forecast for tonight from the central plains and mid-Mississippi valley eastward. It will be mostly fair elsewhere with cooler weather spreading into the lakes region.

Advance Toward New Record in Active Trading

New York — The stock market nudged toward another record high in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Advances of most key stocks were fractional. Some went to a point or more.

Most motors, steels, aircrafts, coppers, oils, tobaccos and airlines were ahead but below their best prices attained in the morning.

Northern Pacific, star of Thursday's upsurge by the carriers, was steady after making a slight early gain.

Santa Fe, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad and Union Pacific made fractional advances.

Official Receives Unolicited Thanks
Denver—A. Edward Hirschfeld, a director of the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children here, caught a taxi during a New York trip. When the cab driver learned he was from Denver, he said "my kid raves about it. They practically saved his life in Denver."

Then he handed a folder of matches to Hirschfeld. It bore the name of the Jewish national home.
